The Civil and Military Officers present on duty according to rank.

When all the Chiefs and gentlemen attending the Durbar had assembled, the Viceroy and Governor General entered the Durbar tent, accompanied by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, the Foreign Secretary and the Officers of the Viceroy's and Lieutenant-Governor's Personal Staff. As the Viceroy entered the Durbar tent, a Royal Salute was fired, and a band in attendance played "God save the Queen." All rose from their seats, and remained standing until His Excellency had taken his place on the Throne.

The Chiefs, Sirdars, and Native gentlemen were then introduced to His Excellency the Viceroy; the Maharaja of Pattialla, the Nawab of Bhawalpore, and the Rajas of Jheend and Nabha by the Foreign Secretary, and the remainder by the Under-Secretary.

As each Chief Sirdar and Native gentleman was introduced, he presented his proper nuzzur, which was touched and remitted.

When the introductions were completed, dresses of honor were brought in and conferred on the following Chiefs of the Punjab and its dependencies:—

The Maharaja of Pattialla.

The Nawab of Bhawalpore.

The Raja of Chumba.

The Sirdar of Kulsia.

The Nawab of Patowdee.

The Nawab of Loharoo, and the heir apparent.

The Nawab of Dojana, and the heir apparent.

The Raja of Gooleria.

The Viceroy and Governor General then delivered the following address to the Chiefs, Sirdars, and Native gentlemen assembled in Durbar:—

"Maharaja, Rajas, and Sirdars. On behalf of Her Majesty the Queen I bid you heartily welcome.

"Since I met you in Durbar two years and a half ago, at Umballa, Lahore, and Multan, the Punjab has enjoyed peace and prosperity, the harvests have been plentiful, serious crime has diminished, and trade has flourished.

"The administration of the Province has been firmly and judiciously conducted by the Lieutenant-Governor, who has recently received from Her Majesty a well-earned mark of distinction.

"The native states have been well governed by the worthy and distinguished representatives of the princely houses whom I see assembled here to-day.

"A treaty of friendship and commerce has been concluded with the Ameer of Kashgar which, by the cordial co-operation of the Maharaja of Cashmere, will benefit trade.

"The Lieutenant-Governor has given his attention to the opening of a new trade route to Afghanistan with every prospect of success.

"The value of communication by Railway has been shown by the large quantities of grain which were sent last year out of the abundance of this province to Bengal and Behar, where the crops failed. The Railway through Sind to the seaport of Kurrachee is being rapidly constructed, and will provide an additional outlet for the produce of the Punjab.

"The increase of wealth and prosperity has made it necessary to add to the strength of the Civil Administration. This will give to the principal officers more time to acquire a personal knowledge of their districts and also afford greater opportunities for the honorable employment under Government of the well-educated natives of the province.

"There are some matters which, although they concern distant parts of India, may be interesting to you.

"The affairs of the State of Baroda have for some time caused considerable anxiety. The attempt recently made to poison Colonel Phayre, the representative of the British Government, was a most serious event, which demanded full and immediate enquiry. A Commission was accordingly appointed, upon which to my great satisfaction the Maharaja of Gwalior and the Maharaja of Jeypore are serving. The Commission have not yet made their report; I shall therefore abstain from any further remarks upon this subject.

"A difference has arisen between the British Government and the King of Ava, who, contrary to the assurances previously given by his Ministers, has claimed authority over the country of Western Karenee, which adjoins Her Majesty's Dominions, and has always been recognised as independent by the British Government. I have charged Sir Douglas Forsyth with a mission to Mandalay, and I trust that the question, although it has assumed a serious aspect, may eventually be amicably settled.

"These events affect but small portions of Her Majesty's Indian territories, and do not interfere with the general tranquillity and prosperity of the Empire.

"It will be my grateful duty to represent to the Queen the loyal reception with which I have been greeted as Her Representative by all classes in this city. I have received Her Majesty's commands to express the deep interest which she takes in the welfare of all her subjects, and the cordial friendship which she entertains towards the Princes and Chiefs of India.

"It affords me particular pleasure to be able to make the announcement that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, the heir to the British Throne, intends to visit India next winter. His Royal Highness has long cherished the desire of becoming personally acquainted with this portion of the Empire, and I am sure that the Princes and people of India will welcome him in such a manner as will show their loyalty to the Throne, and their attachment to the British Government."

After His Excellency's speech had been delivered, the Durbar was closed with the usual ceremonies.

Simla, the 8th April 1875.

No. 63.—The provisions of Act VIII of 1870 (for the prevention of the murder of female infants) having been made applicable to the classes of persons resident in the Meerut District in the localities detailed in the subjoined list, by the Notification of the Government of the North-Western Provinces, No. 19 A, dated the 1st ultimo, the following Rules made by the Government of the North-Western Provinces in exercise of the power conferred on it by Section 2 of the said Act, and confirmed by the Governor General in Council, are hereby published for general information :—

Rules for the suppression of Female Infanticide.

I.—A nominal Register (A) of all proclaimed families shall be drawn up by the Police under the orders of the Magistrate of the district. In this register recognized heads of families or masters of separate households shall be entered as the heads of families, and every member of the family habitually resident in the village shall be entered by name. All persons under twelve shall be entered as children, except married female children living with their husbands, who shall, for the purposes of these Rules, be deemed to be adult females.

II.—All villages in which the proportion of female children to children on a proclaimed population of not less than 25 children, is less than 25 per cent., shall be called "specially guilty" villages, and shall also be entered in a separate Register (B), which shall be called the "Private register of proclaimed families in specially guilty villages." This register shall not be open to inspection except by the officers of the district.

III.—The person who is registered as the head of a proclaimed family shall report immediately the occurrence of every birth and death, and the illness of any female child in his family to the chaukidar of the village. He shall also produce all children in his family for the inspection of a Police Officer visiting the village when required to produce them.

IV.—Every midwife knowing of, or having reason to believe in, the occurrence in a proclaimed family in the village in which she resides of a birth, or of the illness of a new-born child, shall at once report the fact to the chaukidar of the village. And if the village is one entered in Register B, she shall also report the occurrence of a pregnancy.

V.—If in a given time after proclamation [to be determined for each village or locality by the Local Government] the proportion of female children in a village entered in Register B does not rise to more than 25 per cent., the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that every person registered as the head of a proclaimed family in that village shall be personally bound to report to the officer in charge of the Police Station every pregnancy in his family at some period before the seventh month.

VI.—The chaukidar of the village shall immediately report to the officer in charge of the Police Station the occurrence of a birth, whether male or female, in a proclaimed family; the death of a female infant under six months old; the illness of a female child; and the removal of a pregnant woman to another village. He shall also report, on the occasion of his periodical visit to the Police Station, other deaths, removals and arrivals; and pregnancies reported to him if the village is entered in Register B.

VII.—The zemindars of the villages shall give assistance to the Police in drawing up Register A, and in obtaining information regarding all births, marriages, and deaths occurring, or about to occur, among proclaimed families.

VIII.—All expenses incurred in working the system sanctioned by Act VIII of 1870 shall be borne by the proclaimed clans and families, and shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue; provided that, when the percentage of female children to children of any proclaimed class in any village exceeds forty, such class shall be exempted from any share in such expenses, unless in the opinion of the Magistrate there be other grounds of suspicion.

IX.—Where the crime is so prevalent, and the number of the proclaimed villages so great, that the ordinary establishment of the district cannot cope successfully with it, the Local Government may, at its discretion, appoint a force of special Police for the purpose of carrying out measures of prevention and detection. All expenses incurred for the payment of such Police, or under Rule VIII, may be met by a rate leviable, under the orders of the Local Government, from the heads of families entered in the nominal register of proclaimed persons. Such rate will ordinarily be imposed so as to fall more heavily on specially guilty than on guilty families; but the amount of the rate to be levied will be fixed in every case by the special orders of the Local Government.

X.—No proclaimed village or family shall be exempted from the operation of these Rules except by the order of the Local Government, or in virtue of authority to that effect vested by Government in any officer. A village or family so exempted will then be struck out of Register A, and the erasure initialled by the Magistrate of the District, or by the District Superintendent of Police.

AT THE COURT AT OSBORNE HOUSE, ISLE OF WIGHT, THE 4TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1875.

Present.

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An act for amending the law relating to the Extradition of Criminals," it was amongst other things enacted, that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Act shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the Order, and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient :

And whereas a treaty was concluded on the thirty-first day of March last between Her Majesty and the Swiss Confederation, for the Mutual Extradition of Fugitive Criminals, which Treaty is in the terms following :—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Swiss Confederation, having judged it expedient, with a view to the better administration of justice and to the prevention of crime within their respective territories and jurisdictions, that persons charged with, or convicted of, the crimes hereinafter enumerated, and being fugitives from justice, should, under certain circumstances, be reciprocally delivered up, have named as their Plenipotentiaries to conclude a Treaty for this purpose, that is to say :

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Alfred Guthrie Graham Bonar, Esquire, Her Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Swiss Confederation ;

And the Federal Council of the Swiss Confederation, Joseph Martin Knüsel, Member of the Swiss Federal Council ;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles :—

NACHDEM Ihre Majestät die Königin des Vereinigten Königreichs von Grossbritannien und Irland, und die Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft, behufs besserer Verwaltung der Rechtspflege und zur verhütung von Verbrechen innerhalb der beiden Gebiete und Gerichtsbarkeiten es für zweckmässig befunden haben, dass Personen, welche der in diesem Verträge aufgeführten strafbaren Handlungen beschuldigt oder wegen solcher verurtheilt und vor der Justiz flüchtig geworden sind, unter bestimmten Umständen gegenseitig ausgeliefert werden sollen ; so haben sie behufs Abschliessung eines desfallsigen Vertrages zu Ihren Bevollmächtigten ernannt und zwar :

Ihre Majestät die Königin des Vereinigten Königreichs von Grossbritannien und Irland Alfred Guthrie Graham Bonar, Esquire, Ihren ausserordentlichen Gesandten und Bevollmächtigten Minister bei der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft.

Und der Bundesrath der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft Joseph Martin Knüsel, Mitglied des Schweizerischen Bundesrathes ;

Welche, nachdem sie sich gegenseitig ihre Vollmachten mitgetheilt und dieselben in guter und gehöriger Form befunden, die folgenden Artikel vereinbart und abgeschlossen haben :—

ARTIKEL I.

Die Auslieferung findet auch statt wegen Theilnahme an einer der vorbezeichneten strafbaren Handlungen, mag die Theilnahme vor oder nach der Verübung stattfinden.

ARTIKEL III.

Kein Schweizer wird von Seiten der Schweiz an die Regierung der Vereinigten Königreiches und von Seiten dieser kein englischer Unterthan an die Schweiz ausgeliefert werden.

ARTIKEL IV.

Die Auslieferung soll nicht stattfinden, wenn die von der Schweizerischen Regierung verfolgte Person im Vereinigten Königreich, oder die Seitens der Regierung des Vereinigten Königreichs part of the Swiss Government, has already been tried and discharged or punished, or is still under trial, in one of the Swiss Cantons or in the United Kingdom respectively, for the crime for which his extradition is demanded.

If the person claimed on the part of the Government of the United Kingdom, or if the person claimed on the part of the Swiss Government, should be under examination, or have been condemned for any other crime, in one of the Swiss Cantons or in the United Kingdom respectively, his extradition may be deferred until he shall have been set at liberty in due course of law.

In case such individual should be proceeded against or detained in the country in which he has taken refuge, on account of obligations contracted towards private individuals, his extradition shall, nevertheless, take place; the injured party retaining his right to prosecute his claims before the competent authority.

ARTICLE V.

The extradition shall not take place if, subsequently to the commission of the crime, or the institution of the penal prosecution, or the conviction thereon, exemption from prosecution or punishment has been acquired by lapse of time, according to the laws of the State applied to.

ARTICLE VI.

If the individual claimed by one of the two Contracting Parties in pursuance of the present Treaty should be also claimed by one or several other Powers, on account of other crimes committed upon their respective territories, his surrender shall be granted to that State whose demand is earliest in date; unless any other arrangement should be made between the Governments which have claimed him, either on account of the gravity of the crimes committed, or for any other reason.

ARTICLE VII.

A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character, or is connected with a crime of that nature, or if he prove that the requisition for his surrender has, in fact, been made with a view to try and punish him for an offence of a political character.

ARTICLE VIII.

A person surrendered can in no case be kept in prison, or be brought to trial in the State to which the surrender has been made, for any other crime, or on account of any other matters than those for which the extradition shall have taken place.

This stipulation does not apply to crimes committed after the extradition.

ches verfolgte Person in einem Kanton der Schweiz wegen derselben strafbaren Handlung, wegen deren die Auslieferung nachgesucht wird, in Untersuchung gewesen und ausser Verfolgung gesetzt worden oder sich noch in Untersuchung befindet, oder bereits bestraft worden ist.

Wenn die von der Schweizerischen Regierung verfolgte Person im Vereinigten Königreich, oder wenn die Seitens der Regierung des Vereinigten Königreiches verfolgte Person in einem Kanton der Schweiz wegen einer andern strafbaren Handlung in Untersuchung liegt oder bestraft worden ist, so kann die Auslieferung verschoben werden bis diese Person in gehörigen Rechtsgang in Freiheit gesetzt worden ist.

Wird ein solches Individuum wegen Verpflichtungen, die dasselbe mit Privatpersonen abgeschlossen hat, in jenem Lande, in welchem es Zuflucht genommen hat, gerichtlich verfolgt oder mit Personalarrest belegt, so soll dessen Auslieferung dennoch stattfinden, dabei aber der beschädigten Partei das Recht vorbehalten bleiben, ihre Aussprache vor der kompetenten Behörde geltend zu machen.

ARTIKEL V.

Die Auslieferung soll nicht stattfinden, wenn seit der begangenen strafbaren Handlung, oder der Einleitung der strafgerichtlichen Verfolgung, oder der erfolgten Verurtheilung nach den Gesetzen des ersuchten Staates Verjährung der strafgerichtlichen Verfolgung oder der erhaltenen Strafe eingetreten ist.

ARTIKEL VI.

Wird ein Individuum von einer der beiden Vertragsparteien auf Grund des gegenwärtigen Vertrages zur Auslieferung reklamirt, zugleich aber auch dessen Auslieferung von einer oder mehreren andern Mächten wegen andern auf deren Gebieten begangenen Verbrechen verlangt, so ist dasjenige Gesuch im Vorgange zu bewilligen, welches das älteste im datum ist, es sei denn, dass zwischen den Regierungen, die das betreffende Individuum reklamirt haben, entweder wegen der Wichtigkeit der begangenen Verbrechen oder aus andern Gründen ein anderes Abkommen getroffen würde.

ARTIKEL VII.

Ein flüchtiger Verbrecher soll nicht ausgeliefert werden, wenn die strafbare Handlung, wegen deren seine Auslieferung verlangt wird, einen politischen Charakter an sich trägt, oder mit einem derartigen Verbrechen zusammenhängt, oder wenn er nachweisen kann, dass der Antrag auf seine Auslieferung in Wirklichkeit mit der Absicht gestellt worden ist, ihn wegen eines Verbrechens, oder Vergehens politischer Natur zu verfolgen oder zu bestrafen.

ARTIKEL VIII.

Die ausgelieferte Person darf in dem Staate, an welchen die Auslieferung erfolgt ist, keinesfalls wegen einer andern strafbaren Handlung oder auf Grund anderer Thatfachen, als derjenigen, wegen deren die Auslieferung erfolgt ist, in Haft behalten oder zur Untersuchung gezogen werden.

Auf strafbare Handlungen, welche nach erfolgter Auslieferung verübt sind, findet diese Bestimmung keine Anwendung.

ARTICLE IX.

The requisition for extradition must always be made by the way of diplomacy, and to wit, in Switzerland by the British Minister to the President of the Confederation, and in the United Kingdom to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs by the Consul-General of Switzerland, who for the purposes of this Treaty is hereby recognized by Her Majesty as a Diplomatic Representative of Switzerland.

The requisition for the extradition of an accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime had been committed there.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent Court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

A requisition for extradition cannot be founded on sentences passed in contumaciam.

ARTICLE X.

A fugitive criminal may, however, be apprehended under a warrant issued by any police magistrate, justice of the peace, or other competent authority, in either country, on such information or complaint, together with such evidence or after such judicial proceedings as would in the opinion of the officer issuing the warrant justify its issue, if the crime had been committed in that part of the dominions of the two Contracting Parties in which he exercises jurisdiction. Provided, however, that in the United Kingdom the accused shall in such case be sent as speedily as possible before a police magistrate in London. Such requisition may be made by means of the post or by telegraph.

The accused shall, however, be discharged if within such reasonable time as, with reference to the circumstances of the case, the police magistrate may fix, the requisition shall not have been made according to the stipulations contained in Article IX.

ARTICLE XI.

The extradition shall not take place before the expiration of fifteen days from the apprehension, and then only if the evidence be found sufficient, according to the laws of the State applied to, either to justify the committal of the prisoner for trial, in case the crime had been committed in the territory of the said State, or to prove that the prisoner is the identical person convicted by the Courts of the State which makes the requisition.

ARTIKEL IX.

Das Auslieferungsbegehren muss immer auf diplomatischem Wege gestellt werden und zwar in der Schweiz durch den Englischen Gesandten bei dem Bundespräsidenten und in Grossbritannien durch den Schweizerischen General-Konsul in London, welcher von Ihrer Majestät für die Zwecke dieses Vertrages als diplomatischer Repräsentant der Schweiz anerkannt wird, bei dem Staatssekretär für die auswärtigen Angelegenheiten.

Mit dem Gesuche auf Auslieferung eines Beschuldigten müssen ein Verhaftsbefehl welcher von der zuständigen Behörde des die Auslieferung begehrenden Staates erlassen ist, und solche Beweise beigebracht werden, welche nach den Gesezen des Ortes, wo der Beschuldigte aufgefunden wird, dessen Verhaftung rechtfertigen würden, wenn die strafbare Handlung dort begangen wäre.

Betrifft das Auslieferungsbegehren eine bereits verurtheilte Person, so muss das Strafurtheil beigebracht werden, welches von dem zuständigen Gericht des die Auslieferung begehrenden Staates gegen den Verurtheilten erlassen worden ist.

Auf Strafurtheile, welche in contumaciam erlassen worden sind, kann das Auslieferungsgesuch nicht gegründet werden.

ARTIKEL X.

Indessen kann ein flüchtiger Verbrecher in beiden Ländern auch verhaftet werden auf Grund eines Verhaftsbefehles, der von einem Polizeimagistrat, Friedensrichter, oder von einer andern kompetenten Behörde auf eine solche Strafanzeige oder Klage und zugleich auf einen solchen Beweis oder nach einem solchen gerichtlichen Verfahren erlassen wird, dass nach der Ansicht des Beamten, welcher den Verhaftsbefehl erlässt, dessen Erlass gerechtfertigt wäre, wenn das Verbrechen in demjenigen Theile der Gebiete der Vertragsparteien begangen worden wäre, in welchem der Beamte Gerichtsbarkeit ausübt. Es wird indessen bedungen, dass in dem Vereinigten Königreiche in einem solchen Falle der Beklagte so schnell wie möglich vor einen Polizeimagistrat in London gesendet werden soll. Solche Requisitionen mögen vermittle der Post oder durch den Telegraphen gemacht werden.

Der Angeklagte soll indess des Verhaftes entlassen werden, wenn inner einer billigen Frist, die von dem Polizeimagistrat anzusezen ist und bei deren Fixirung die Verumständungen des einzelnen Falles zu berücksichtigen sind, das Begehren nicht in Gemässheit der in Artikel IX enthaltenen Bestimmungen gestellt worden ist.

ARTIKEL XI.

Die Auslieferung erfolgt nicht vor Ablauf von fünfzehn Tagen seit der Ergreifung und nur dann, wenn die Beweise für genügend befunden worden sind, um nach den Gesezen des ersuchten Staates entweder die Verweisung des Ergriffenen zur Hauptuntersuchung zu rechtfertigen, falls die strafbare Handlung im Gebiet dieses Staates begangen wäre, oder darzuthun, dass der Ergriffene mit der von den Gerichten des ersuchenden Staates verurtheilten Person identisch ist.

ARTICLE XII.

In the examinations which they have to make in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as entirely valid evidence the sworn depositions or statement of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein, provided such documents are signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or Officer of such State, and are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of a British Secretary of State, or of the Chancellor of the Swiss Confederation.

ARTICLE XIII.

If sufficient evidence for the extradition be not produced within two months from the date of the apprehension of the fugitive, he shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE XIV.

All articles seized, which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his apprehension, shall, if the competent authority of State applied to for the extradition has ordered the delivery thereof, be given up when the extradition takes place, and the said delivery shall extend not merely to the stolen articles, but to everything that may serve as a proof of the crime.

ARTICLE XV.

The Contracting Parties renounce any claim for the reimbursement of the expenses incurred by them in the arrest and maintenance of the person to be surrendered, and his conveyance to the frontiers of the State from which he is required; they reciprocally agree to bear such expenses themselves.

ARTICLE XVI.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to the Colonies and foreign Possessions of Her Britannic Majesty.

The requisition for the arrest and surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of such Colonies or foreign Possessions shall be made through the Swiss Consul-General in London to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, who shall proceed in conformity with the provisions of the present Treaty and the laws of the land.

Her Britannic Majesty shall, however, be at liberty to make special arrangements in the British Colonies and foreign Possessions for the surrender of such individuals as shall have committed in Switzerland any of the crimes hereinafore mentioned, who may take refuge within such Colonies and foreign Possessions, on the basis, as nearly as may be, of the provisions of the present Treaty.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal from any Colony or foreign Possession of ARTIKEL XII.

Die Behörden des ersuchten Staates haben bei der Prüfung, welche ihnen nach den vorstehenden Bestimmungen obliegt, den beschworenen Depositionen und Zeugenaussagen, welche in dem andern Staate zu Protokoll genommen sind, desgleichen den Abschriften hiervon und ebenso den im andern Staate erlassenen Haftbefehlen und Urtheilen volle Beweiskraft beizulegen, vorausgesetzt, dass diese Schriftstücke durch einen Richter, eine obrigkeitliche Person oder einen andern Beamten dieses Staates unterzeichnet oder bescheinigt und durch einen beeidigten Zeugen oder durch Beidrückung des Amtssiegels eines Englischen Staatsministers oder des Schweizerischen Bundeskanzlers beglaubigt sind.

ARTIKEL XIII.

Wenn die zur Auslieferung genügenden Beweise nicht binnen zwei Monaten von dem Tage der Ergreifung des Flüchtigen an beigebracht werden, so ist der Ergriffene auf freien Fuss zu setzen.

ARTIKEL XIV.

Alle in Beschlag genommenen Gegenstände, welche sich zur Zeit der Verhaftung der auszuliefernden Person in deren Besitz waren, sollen, wenn die zuständige Behörde des um die Auslieferung ersuchten Staates die Ausantwortung derselben angeordnet hat, bei Vollziehung der Auslieferung mit übergeben werden, und diese Ueberlieferung soll sich nicht blos auf die entfremdeten Gegenstände, sondern auch auf Alles erstrecken, was zum Beweis der strafbaren Handlung dienen kann.

ARTIKEL XV.

Die vertragenden Theile verzichten darauf, die Erstattung derjenigen Kosten, welche ihnen aus der Festnahme und dem Unterhalt des Auszuliefernden und seinem Transport bis zur Grenze des requirirten Staates erwachsen, in Anspruch zu nehmen, willigen vielmehr gegenseitig darein, diese Kosten selbst zu tragen.

ARTIKEL XVI.

Die Bestimmungen des gegenwärtigen Vertrages sollen auf die Kolonien und auswärtigen Besitzungen Ihrer Grossbritannischen Majestät Anwendung finden.

Der Antrag auf Verhaftung und Auslieferung eines flüchtigen Verbrechers, welcher in einer dieser Kolonien oder auswärtigen Besitzungen Zuflucht gefunden hat, soll durch den Schweizerischen General-Konsul in London bei dem Staatssekretär der auswärtigen Angelegenheiten gestellt werden, welcher nach Vorschrift dieses Vertrages und der bestehenden Geseze zu verfahren hat.

Ihrer Grossbritannischen Majestät soll es jedoch freistehen, in den Britischen Kolonien und auswärtigen Besitzungen über die Auslieferung solcher Individuum die in der Schweiz ein im Vertrag genanntes Verbrechen begangen haben, aber innerhalb dieser Kolonien und auswärtigen Besitzungen Zuflucht gefunden haben, auf möglichst gleicher Grundlage mit den Bestimmungen des gegenwärtigen Vertrages besondere Anordnungen zu treffen.

Begehren betreffend die Auslieferung von Verbrechern, welche aus einer Kolonie oder auswärt-

Her Britannic Majesty shall be governed by the rules laid down in the preceding Articles of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XVII.

The present Treaty shall come into force ten days after its publication in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties. It may be terminated by either of the High Contracting Parties, but shall remain in force for six months after notice has been given for its termination.

The Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Berne in four weeks, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

And whereas a Protocol amending Article XVI of the aforesaid Treaty was signed by the Plenipotentiaries of Her Majesty and of the Swiss Confederation on the twenty-eighth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, which Protocol is in the following terms:—

The Undersigned Plenipotentiaries of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Federal Council of the Swiss Confederation, having met in Conference, have taken into their consideration the following subject:—

They have directed their attention to the fact that the second paragraph of the XVIth Article of the Treaty, which stipulates that the requisition for the arrest of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of the Colonies or foreign possessions of Her Britannic Majesty shall be made through the Swiss Consul-General in London to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, was not in accordance with the law of England, and they have consequently resolved to declare that the second paragraph of that Article beginning:

“The requisition for the arrest,” and concluding with, “and the laws of the land,” shall be null and void, and in lieu thereof the following words shall be substituted:

“The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of such Colonies or foreign possessions shall be made to the Governor or to the Supreme Authority of such Colony or Possession through the Swiss Consul, or, in case there should be no Swiss Consul, through the Consular Agent of another State charged for the occasion with the Swiss interests in the Colony or Possession in question.

“The Governor or Supreme Authority above-mentioned shall decide with regard to such requisitions as nearly as possible in accordance with the provisions of the present Treaty. He will,

ARTIKEL XVII.

Der gegenwärtige Vertrag soll zehn Tage nach seiner, in Gemässheit der durch die Gesetzgebung der hohen vertragenden Theile vorgeschriebenen Formen erfolgten Veröffentlichung in Kraft treten. Der Vertrag kann von jedem der beiden hohen vertragenden Theile aufgekündigt werden, bleibt jedoch nach erfolgter Aufkündigung noch sechs Monate in Kraft.

Der Vertrag wird ratifizirt und die Ratifikationen werden nach vier Wochen, oder wo möglich früher, in Bern ausgewechselt werden.

Zu Urkund dessen haben die beiderseitigen Bevollmächtigten die gegenwärtige Uebereinkunft unterzeichnet und mit ihren Wappen unterschrieben.

So geschehen in Bern den eindunddreissigsten März, Ein tausend acht hundert vier und siebenzig.

(L.S.) A. G. G. BONAR.

(L.S.) J. M. KNUSEL.

Die unterzeichneten Bevollmächtigten Ihrer Majestät der Königin des Vereinigten Königreichs von Grossbritannien und Irland, und des Bundesrathes der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft, haben in einer Conferenz folgenden Gegenstand in Erwägung gezogen:—

Sie haben ihre Aufmerksamkeit auf die That-sache gerichtet, dass der zweite Absatz von Artikel XVI des Vertrages, welcher bestimmt, dass das Gesuch um Verhaftung eines flüchtigen Verbrechers, welcher sich nach einer der Colonien oder auswärtigen Besetzungen Ihrer Grossbritannischen Majestät gewendet hat, durch den Schweizerischen General-Consul in London an den Staatsssekretär für die auswärtigen Angelegenheiten gerichtet werden soll, mit den Gesetzen Englands nicht in Einklang steht. Sie sind daher übereingekommen zu erklären, dass der zweite Absatz besagten Artikels, also beginnend:

“Der Antrag auf Verhaftung,” und schliessend, “der bestehenden Gesetze zu verfahren hat,” null und nichtig sein, und an Stelle desselben die nachfolgenden Worte eingeschaltet werden sollen:

No. 375 of 1875.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council has pleasure in publishing for general information the following letter from the Quartermaster General of the Army, forwarding the final despatch from Brigadier-General W. Stafford, C.B., reporting the close of the operations carried on by the troops under his command in the Duffla country during the past cold season.

No. ⁴⁹¹ Duffla Expedition (Field Operations), dated Calcutta, the 22nd March 1875.

From—Colonel F. S. ROBERTS, C.B., V.C., R.A., Officiating Quartermaster-General,

To—Colonel H. K. BURNE, Secretary to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., Calcutta.

I AM desired by the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in Chief to transmit, for the information of the Government of India, the accompanying report from Brigadier-General W. Stafford, C.B., regarding the operations carried on by the troops under his command in the Duffla country.

2. General Stafford's weekly diaries have been forwarded regularly direct to the Military Department, so that the Government of India have been placed in possession of all the circumstances connected with the expedition from 18th November 1874, the date the troops arrived at the Dikrung, until the breaking up of the force at Narainpore on the 24th ultimo.

3. The Brigadier-General bears testimony to the soldierly conduct of the troops, and to the valuable services of the whole of the officers placed at his disposal, more particularly those of whom the Brigadier-General has made special mention in the list attached.

4. The attention of Government is invited to the interesting reports of the officers commanding the transport corps, the senior medical officer, the officer in charge of the survey, the Deputy Assistant Commissary-General, and the officer in charge of the signals.

Field Operations
Duffla, dated Camp Dibrugah, the 4th March 1875.

From—Brigadier-General W. J. F. STAFFORD, C.B., late Commanding Duffla Field Force,

To—The Quartermaster-General, Army Head-Quarters, Calcutta.

THE Duffla Expedition having been brought to a close, I have the honor to submit a brief narrative of the operations in which the force has been engaged; and I beg to enclose a trace from Major Austen's plane table, which will shew the route taken.

2. The diaries and special reports which have from time to time been forwarded for the information of Government, and the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, leave me but little to add.

3. The objects for which the expedition was organized, and sent into the Duffla Hills, are fully detailed in Government Resolution, No. 1888P, dated 31st August 1874.

4. The field force was composed of the troops, as per margin, and for transport service, there were 1,200 coolies, 59 elephants, and 88 boats, from Dikrung Mookh up to which point stores were conveyed in steamers. After a time boats were used from Dikrung Mookh to Borpani, and elephants as far as Herjoollie, or Camp No. 4; beyond this, the coolies of the transport corps were exclusively employed.

5. All out-posts, along the foot of the hills, from Behalee to the west, to Joyling to the east, were taken up the end of October; and during November, troops were moved up. I with my staff arrived at Dikrung Mookh on the 18th November, and on the 10th December I reached Borpani, which may be considered in the enemy's country. A road had been made from Dikrung Mookh, through Narainpore, to Hurmuttee, under the superintendence of Captain Peet, Assistant Commissioner, and this was subsequently improved by military labor. A road was likewise constructed by the troops, from Hurmuttee to Borpani; and the necessity of marching up, keeping close to the banks of the Dikrung river, and crossing and re-crossing it, a proceeding which would have been attended with no little difficulty, was thereby avoided.

6. To allow of supplies being brought up, I remained at Borpani until the 14th December (the road to the rear, and also to the front, being put into proper order) when an onward move was made to Herjoollee; and on the 18th, the force marched from thence towards camp marked No. 6, which it reached on the 19th, and it was then within a few miles of Pakfi's village (Camp No. 11).

7. When, by the 30th December, the force was in a position to proceed up the Dikrung river, following its banks in the direction of Nana's village, all the captives had been surrendered, with the exception of two—one was in possession of Nana, and the other in that of an Abor Chief, who was then not known.

8. On the 2nd January the force arrived a short distance from Nana's village (No. 9 Camp), and it was soon reported that the captive, to whom allusion has been made above, was anxious to remain where he was, and not to return to the plains. A few days afterwards the village was visited, the Nana having previously come in, and fines were imposed; but as these were not being paid quickly, it was thought expedient to occupy Nana's new village (Camp No. 10), some four miles distant, and this had the desired effect.

9. It was always intended that the force should remain in the hills for some time, and as there were no offending villages further up the Dikrung river, it stayed at No. 9 Camp until the 27th January, and during this time, Major Austen was engaged in survey operations, which, however, were much impeded, in consequence of the very unfavorable weather which prevailed almost the whole of January.

10. In the meantime, from information received, it was ascertained beyond a doubt, that the last remaining captive, a little girl, was in the village of "Dilling" to the north-east of Pakfi's. She had been exchanged by Tagun Gam, whose village is situated to the south of the Missa Purbut, and who took an active part in the raid on Amtolla, for a boy of his, who had been carried away by Boya Gam, resident of "Oompoong" beyond Pakfi's village. Boya Gam had, in his turn, exchanged her for a girl who was in the possession of one of the Chiefs of "Dilling."

11. Tagun Gam was summoned to appear before me, and he readily did so. As a precautionary measure the son of Boya Gam was seized in "Oompoong" and retained as a hostage, the two men concerned in the exchange of the girl being told that they were to recover her, failing which, the son of Boya would not be released. They both agreed to proceed to "Dilling" with mithans and gongs to ransom her; but I now have reason to doubt their having used their best endeavours in the matter. However, as I fully believed, at the time, that the girl would have been given up, I remained at No. 6 Camp until the 7th February, when feeling sure that she would not be surrendered, unless the force advanced, I marched on "Dilling," which proved to be much further than I had anticipated, and which was not reached until the afternoon of the 10th. A very short time after the force arrived above the village, where it encamped, the girl was brought into camp, and delivered up unconditionally. The following morning the force retraced its steps. The weather had been very unfavorable, and there were some very high hills to cross over, one 7,695 feet above the sea level, but all the men were in good spirits, and there was no sickness whatever.

12. The real offender in this case was Tagun Gam, and to guard against any contingency, I had detached Captain Palmer, Aide-de-Camp from No. 6 Camp, with some Sappers, and some men of the 43rd Native Infantry, to this man's village, to secure hostages and mithans, and this duty was performed to my entire satisfaction.

13. On the 11th whilst on the march I heard of the sad events which had occurred in the Naga Hills; and immediate arrangements were made to despatch reinforcements to Dibrugarh.

14. I should state that, prior to making an advance from Hurmuttee, I, in consultation with Lieutenant-Colonel Graham, the Political Officer attached to the force, had thought it advisable to send Rotokis (interpreters) and Dufflas residing in our territory, to the different offending villages calling upon the Gams to surrender the captives in their possession. Messengers were also despatched to the Eastern Dufflas, to say that we had no quarrel with them, and that they need not feel any uneasiness with regard to our advance into the hills. The above measure will account for the captives having been brought into our camp even before we reached the villages in which they were, and for the Eastern Dufflas having visited Camp No. 9.

15. No opposition whatever was offered to our advance; but, in my opinion, this must be, in a great degree, if not entirely, attributed to the strength which we displayed, and I doubt whether a much smaller force would have met with the same success.

16. The orders of Government issued for my guidance were, to my mind, so plain and clear, and the path traced out for me so distinct, that I did not consider myself justified in deviating from the instructions laid down in Resolution of 31st August 1874, to which I firmly adhered throughout, and my doing this may, I fear, have been the cause of some disappointments to the Survey Department. Should this have been the case, the whole responsibility rests with me; but, still I trust it may be deemed that I always, so far as it lay in my power, afforded every assistance to Major Austen and his party. In paragraph 4 of the Resolution occur the words "opportunity will be taken to effect as complete an exploration of the country as circumstances will permit," and I beg to submit that this has been accomplished, and that the reasons which led to the expedition being undertaken had no reference to the exploration of the Duffla country. That, in fact, no troops would have entered the hills, had it not been necessary to punish the tribes by whom the raid of February 1873 was committed.

17. I was singularly fortunate in having placed at my disposal the services of as good and intelligent a set of officers as ever, I may venture to say, accompanied any force in the field, and I would beg to bring the names enumerated in the annexed list to the favourable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief and Government.

18. It must always be rather invidious to mention particular names, when all have done so well; but there are certain officers who, from the nature of the appointments they hold, have better opportunities of bringing out their good qualities, and I only follow the established rule in submitting their names.

19. It is, perhaps, a remarkable fact that the Chiefs of every village the force passed near came into our camp, and that it was on one occasion only that a village was found deserted, but the inhabitants returned to it the day after it was visited.

20. I must not omit to mention that the marine transport service was efficiently performed under the superintendence of Captain Lawrence.

Duffla Field Force Orders.

The Duffla Field Force being in course of being broken up, the Brigadier-General begs to tender his best acknowledgments and thanks to all those engaged in the operations, for the assistance they have invariably afforded him. It has not been the good fortune of the force to encounter opposition; and consequently there was no fighting; but still the objects for which the expedition was organized and sent into the Duffla hills have, in the opinion of the Brigadier, been fully accomplished; and it will give him much pleasure in bringing to the notice of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief and Government the names of those officers who have, he thinks, deserved special mention:—

- (a.)—Commanding and Staff Officers have ever been ready to respond to the call of duty.
- (b.)—The Medical and Commissariat arrangements have been all that could be desired, and the transport service has always kept the force well supplied, in fact there have been no privations, and no force was ever better fed.
- (c.)—Friendly Dufflas and others were employed by the energetic political officer with the force in bringing in intelligence, &c.
- (d.)—The survey parties, under the able officer in charge, have done a very fair amount of work.
- (e.)—The conduct of the men has been excellent, and they have always performed their duties cheerfully, and well.

By order,

(Sd.) A. D. BUTTER, Captain,
Brigade-Major, Duffla Field Force.

CAMP NARAINPORE, }
The 24th February 1875. }

C.

Dated Camp Narainpore, the 23rd February 1875.

From—Colonel R. BAIGRIE, C.B., Commanding Transport Corps, Duffla Field Force,
To—The Brigade-Major, Duffla Field Force.

Having been directed by the Brigadier-General Commanding the Duffla Field Force to report upon the conduct of the officers and men of the Transport Corps during the late expedition, I have great pleasure in bringing to notice their almost universal good conduct, and the willing alacrity with which all (officers and men) assisted me in, first organizing and disciplining the corps, and afterwards in carrying on the arduous work which falls to the transport department on active service.

Unfortunately for our little army, the ends for which the force was employed were attained without fighting, but the work of the transport corps was the same, and all through the continued soaking rains of January with nearly 200 men in hospital, and many more who ought to have been, had the necessities of the force permitted of it, the steady work of pushing up supplies over steep and slippery mountain paths was carried on without a grumble being heard, and during the eight hard marches to and from Dilling (No. 15) over two mountain ranges of about six thousand feet, and one of seven thousand and eight hundred, exposed to much wet and cold, officers and men worked with the same hearty good will.

I beg to bring to the Brigadier-General's notice the valuable work done by the officers attached to the transport corps:—

Captain Wauchope, 42nd Regiment, Native Infantry,

„ Boyes, 2nd Battalion, 12th Regiment,

„ Hutchinson, 14th Regiment,

Lieutenant Egan, 12th Bengal Cavalry, and

throughout the expedition; nothing could exceed their zeal, and the care taken of the men by them, and the discipline enforced by them, together with the sanitary arrangements established and maintained by Surgeon Keefer amongst a class of men hitherto unaccustomed to restraint, went far, in my opinion, to maintain the great healthiness of the force.

I wish also to bring to the Brigadier-General's notice that the non-commissioned officers of the 25th, 42nd, 43rd, and 44th regiments of Native Infantry attached to the transport were very useful and hard working, and the Punjabees and Nepalese were equal in their docility, cleanliness and obedience.

I would also beg to bring to notice the readiness and willingness with which the 500 men sent on duty to the "Naga" Hills obeyed the order, when all were looking forward to returning home. Many whose services were not required, volunteered to go, and only one man (an Afghan) grumbled at having to go.

D.

No. 147, dated Camp Dunsiri Mookh, the 25th February 1875.

From—The Deputy Surgeon-General, Dacca Circle, Principal Medical Officer of the late Duffla Field Force,

To—The Brigade-Major, Eastern Frontier District, late Duffla Field Force.

I have the honor to submit to Brigadier-General Stafford, C. B., Commanding, a sketch of the medical and sanitary arrangements, with the sickness and mortality during the Duffla expedition, and to bring to his notice the services of the medical officers.

MEDICAL ARRANGEMENTS.

2. The Artillery sappers and main portion of the transport corps were conveyed from Goalundo to Dikrung Mookh by three steamers taking four flats. Surgeons Raye and Keefer, and Assistant Apothecary Wilson were respectively in charge of a steamer.

The 16th Native Infantry proceeded from Tezpur under Surgeon Bovill of the regiment. The 42nd and 43rd left Gauhati in charge of Surgeon Wilson, posted to the force for general duty. The 44th came down from Dibrugarh mainly in charge of Surgeon Gash.

3. At Narainpore, as two medical officers were to accompany the advance, Surgeon-Major White of the 42nd was directed to take charge also of the sappers and 44th, and Surgeon Bovill of the Artillery and 43rd. Surgeon Raye was appointed to the charge of the medical stores and dépôt hospital Narainpore; and Surgeon Wilson to the dépôt, &c., about to be formed at Hurmuttee.

4. Under the probability that detachments would be separated occasionally from head quarters, each detachment hospital was organized distinct with its own hospital assistant and establishment.

5. Thus the arrangements for the medical staff might be said to be on the general staff system—the distinctive character of a regimental officer being merged into more general duty—and those for the hospital establishments on the regimental. The result was, I think, satisfactory. Medical officers were occasionally sent with detachments other than their charges, or with only a portion of their charge, resuming all again on their return to head-quarters. A detachment being independent, moved off with its hospital establishment on the shortest notice.

6. On the advance from Narainpore, the sick of the troops and transport remained there; and the same occurred at Hurmuttee. Most of them were temporary cases, and soon rejoined head-quarters, or were attached to the strength of the dépôts. During the expedition, sick men, not likely to recover within a reasonable time, were sent back to these dépôts: but their numbers were few.

7. When the force advanced on the 30th December, from Camp No. 6, Surgeon Raye was brought up for the charge of the field hospital established there. He left on the 27th January, taking back the whole sick of the force to Camp No. 3, Borpani; whence they proceeded by boat to Narainpore. There were no sick men with the force when it began to withdraw.

SANITARY ARRANGEMENTS.

8. The system of latrine trenches was new to the 16th Native Infantry and the Assam regiments. Medical officers introduced it on a regular system, and in all measures they received cordial support from commanding officers. The 26 days' occupation of Camp No. 9—in a contracted space and under most unfavorable weather—was a good test of the efficiency of the plan. The cleanliness of the several camps was so well attended to, that I think it may be said no offence was evident on the return marches.

9. The water-supply was almost entirely from large streams. Precautions were, however, taken when the supply was in smaller quantity.

10. At each camp the troops and transport, &c., huddled well, and guarded themselves against wet grounds. The 16th among the former, and the men of the transport corps soon becoming adepts in the work.

11. Even on the wet and severe marches to Dilling, the trenches were as regularly dug, and the hutting carried out, as on shorter journeys.

MEDICAL OFFICERS.

12. Surgeon-Major J. B. White, of the 42nd, gave me valuable assistance in Calcutta while organizing the medical details of the expedition. He preceded the force, and made arrangements for it at Narainpore and Hurmuttee. I am much indebted to him for his willing aid on all occasions; much of the good sanitary state of the camps is due to his example and supervision.

13. Surgeon D. O'C. Raye, Garrison Surgeon, Fort William, was, at short notice, ordered with the expedition. He was detained at Narainpore pending the arrival of Surgeon Gunn. On that officer returning ill from Gauhati, Surgeon Raye was kept with the force. As medical store-keeper he did good service. The duty on landing and dispersion was arduous. On this work, and during his month's tour at the field hospital, No. 6, his services were very valuable.

14. Surgeon J. N. Keefer, of the 20th Native Infantry, was posted to the transport corps, and joined as the men arrived at Chinsurah. The good sanitary condition of the lines of the transport corps at all the camps was mainly due to his constant supervision and care. His arrangements for the detached post of his men were judicious and thoughtful.

15. Surgeon J. Wilson was stationed principally at Hurmuttee. He performed every duty devolving on him satisfactorily, and kept his station in excellent sanitary condition.

16. Surgeon E. Bovill of the 16th Native Infantry was careful and hardworking in all his charges. He took great pains in the sanitation of the different camps, and did good service throughout.

17. Assistant Apothecary G. Wilson was diligent and painstaking. His principal duties were at the Narainpore depôt, where he gave satisfaction to Surgeons Raye and Wilson.

18. There were 17 Hospital Assistants attached to the expedition, its depôts and out-posts. With one exception all did their duty well. But I would name the following, who did good service with the force itself: 3rd Class Hospital Assistants Abdool Gunny, Artillery; Ausgur Hossein, Sappers; Rujub Alli, 16th; Syud Mahomed Hossein, 43rd; Mahomed Fuzloo Rahman, 44th; Nusserodeen, Staff; Rughoonath Dass and Munsa Ram, of the transport corps.

SICKNESS AND MORTALITY.

19. Subject to the receipt of full details for the whole month of February, the following table shows the main statistics of the force:—

Percentage of sick to average daily strength, for 3 months, from 24th November 1874 to 24th February 1875.

The mortality per cent. to average daily strength for the 4 months was:—

Fighting men	...	...	50 per cent.

21. The health of the officers was, on the whole, excellent. Most of them however suffered ill effects from the circumstances of camp No. 6; and, but for the excellence of the commissariat rations—the regular issue of fresh meat and bread—dysenteric affections would have then become prevalent.

No. 137, dated Steamer Jaboona, the 1st March 1875.

From—MAJOR C. G. HUNT, Deputy Assistant Commissary-General, Principal Commissariat Officer, Duffla Expedition,

To—The Brigade-Major, Duffla Expedition.

Brigadier-General Stafford, c. B., having been pleased to desire that I should submit the names of officers of my department whose services during the late Duffla Expedition deserve notice, I have the honor to report for his information, that Deputy Assistant Commissary-General Lieutenant-Colonel A. W. Montagu, and Sub-Assistant Commissary-Generals Lieutenant J. R. B. Bennet and G. L. Eliot, have evinced great zeal and ability in the discharge of their duties.

Lieutenant-Colonel Montagu in particular has continuously had heavy work of a responsible nature to perform, and has shewn himself to be an officer of very sound judgment, and one who could be relied upon in emergency.

I am much indebted to each of these officers for the valuable aid they have afforded me on this occasion.

F.

Dated Camp Narainpore, the 23rd February 1875.

From—Captain C. BEGBIE, Madras Sappers, in charge of Army Semigraph,

To—The Assistant Quartermaster-General, Duffla Field Force.

I have the honor to offer the following report of the signalling operations during the Duffla Expedition.

2. I joined the head-quarters at Borpani on the 12th December last, with two Privates of the Madras Sappers, and sets of equipment for two signal stations, that being the maximum number which could be worked by us.

3. Lieutenant C. R. Roberts, 72nd Highlanders, kindly offered his services, and volunteered to work at the base, according as his duties kept him at Hurmuttee, or Narainpore, and towards the end of December, the necessary arrangements being completed, signalling between Narainpore and the hill known as Tenier Lampah, near No. 5 Camp, was established.

I beg to take this opportunity of expressing my great obligations to Lieutenant Roberts for the zealous interest evinced by him in the signalling, and for the important assistance rendered by him throughout. In fact, if he had not undertaken to work the base station, it would have been impossible to have attempted any signalling, as I and my two Sappers could only have manned two stations, which number would have been useless for any practical purpose.

4. It became necessary afterwards to change the signalling station from Tenier Lampah to a point marked as "Peak 2 L" in the Duffla map, as the former position was invisible, while the latter was visible, from the neighbourhood of Camps Nos. 6 and 9, at which our longest halts were made. It was requisite to have a station in the camps themselves, as "Peak 2 L" could not be seen from them, so that a chain of four stations was indispensable for connecting by continuous communication, either of these camps with the base.

5. According to the complement laid down in the official code book, there should have been 14 signallers to have worked these four stations, but the number actually available was only three, but this was increased to five by volunteers. So the arrangement made was that the two Native Sappers took one central station (Peak 2 L) and I worked the other (in the vicinity of the Camp), while the terminal stations were managed by Lieutenant Roberts and Sergeant Macqueen (Bengal Sappers) respectively when they were available.

6. It is much to be regretted that the very unfavourable weather during the whole of our stay at No. 9 Camp, prevented any signalling operations being undertaken while there, and it was not until our return to No. 6 that messages, for some days in succession, were transmitted from head-quarters to Narainpore and Hurmuttee.

In addition to the constant rain, mist and cloud, there were other natural difficulties to contend with in the features of the hills, the principal one being the dense and universal forest, which had to be cleared at considerable labor before a horizon could be obtained for a signal station.

7. I beg here to submit that a considerable risk of total failure is involved in the condition of depending upon such a precarious source as the services of volunteers to work the Semegraph, as all officers and men in the field having their legitimate duties to attend to, it is evident that perfect reliance can never be placed on all the signal stations in a chain being manned at all hours.

I avail myself therefore of this opportunity of pointing out the great inconvenience that might arise on some important occasion, if the working of the army Semegraph is in any way dependent on non-professional and voluntary services. The efficient working of the department can only be relied on, when it is composed of officers and men not only thoroughly trained to its duties, but who also belong to it exclusively.

8. Bearing in mind, however, that on this expedition four signal stations were worked by two officers and three men, I trust that the operations, though they were limited, may be considered satisfactory.

The operations were limited in consequence, principally, of our being entirely dependent on the helistat as the means of communication; for, a sunny day throughout the line was quite the exception. If more signallers, however, had been available, the links could have been multiplied, and in the chain thus informed, the base would have been connected with the advanced posts by stations about eight or ten miles apart, according to circumstances, and as flags are easily read at these distances, signalling could have been carried on as well in cloudy as in sunny weather.

9. A sketch accompanies this letter, and it is hoped that it will prove useful in illustrating the relative positions of the different camps and signal stations.

No. 30, dated Narainpore, the 25th February 1875.

From—Major H. H. GODWIN AUSTEN, Deputy Supdt., Topographical Survey of India,
To—Captain D. BUTTER, Brigade-Major, Duffla Field Force.

I have the honor to enclose a sketch for the information of the Brigadier-General of the portion of the Duffla country lately visited by the force under his command, on the scale of 2 miles = 1 inch, shewing the routes followed by the main columns and all detachments in red, those by the survey parties in brown. The map is capable of being reproduced by photo-zincography, should other copies be required, as the hill ranges are shewn in penwork, this the Surveyor-General will no doubt undertake pending the compilation of the fair maps.

2. The survey party has completed by actual survey about 530 square miles of the hill country, and 1,000 square miles more have been laid down by rough reconnoissance. Lieutenant Harman in the Ranga valley brought in a reconnoissance of 500 square miles, and fixed the positions of several hitherto unvisited villages. The total area of country now fairly known of which we were a short time ago completely ignorant, is 1,550 square miles.

3. The triangulation has been successfully completed for a distance of 42 miles in direct line from its base. At Nikori Chapri and Rodonga, Great Trigonometrical Survey stations on the Bramaputra up to Shengorh Peak, on the watershed of the Dikrung and Ranga rivers, eight trigonometrical stations were observed and a number of peaks have been fixed on the ranges to the north up to 28° 25' including several snowy peaks hitherto unknown. These will prove of great use hereafter, should further survey operations be attempted in this part of the Eastern Himalaya.

I have in conclusion to bring to your favorable notice the assistants named in the margin, who have worked hard and seconded my endeavours to the utmost to secure a good outturn of work. Mr. Lister of the Botanical Garden, Calcutta, has had every opportunity given him, and has brought together a large collection of plants and seeds illustrative of the flora of the country. A collection of the birds, insects, and shells has also been brought together, which will be examined and reported on hereafter.

monsoon, about ... 7 miles.
Present light very inferior.

2nd order recommended.

Average rise and fall, Spring tides ...	9	6
Ditto ditto Neap tides	3 to 4	feet.
Depth of water in Entrance Channel at High Water—
Spring tides ...	29	feet.
Neap tides ...	24 to 26	feet.

DRAUGHT OF VESSELS ENTERING OR LEAVING PORT.

Vessels with a draught not exceeding 21½ feet can now enter and leave the Port without difficulty or delay during all seasons of the year.

During the fair season, from October to 15th May, vessels with a draught not exceeding 24 feet can now enter and leave the harbour.

Fixed moorings are placed for such vessels.

TIME OF TIDE FOR ENTERING PORT.

Sailing vessels should enter Port on the ebb-tide.

Steamers can enter either flood or ebb, and stand at once into Port.

Masters of Ships should not, under any circumstances, attempt to enter the harbour without a Pilot.

HARBOUR IMPROVEMENTS.

Among the extensive works executed, a break-water* has been built, running out from Manora Point in a south-by-east direction to a distance of 1,500 feet into 6 fathoms of water; this affords complete shelter to the Entrance Channel during the south-west monsoon; also a channel has been opened through the bar with a depth of 20 feet at low water spring-tides 500 feet in breadth; the channel is marked by buoys, and these on entering should be kept on the port side about 150 feet.

Note.—A Mail Steamer arriving off the port at night and requiring a Pilot should fire two guns.

APPROACHING THE PORT.

COAST OF SIND.

Indus Banks.

The Coast of Sind below the parallel of 24° north latitude should be approached with great caution; too much attention cannot be paid to the lead, more especially in passing the banks of the Indus.*

No sailing vessel should come nearer this coast than 20 fathoms by night, or in rough weather, or under 12 fathoms by day in fine weather.

The tides during the springs are strong, the flood sets south-east and ebbs to the north-west.

From February to the end of the monsoon a strong south-easterly current is experienced, running at a rate of from 15 to 40 miles a day.

During the south-west monsoon, sailing vessels should make Ras Muari (Cape Monze), which is 18 miles west-half-north from Manora Light-house, and keep to windward of the port, if the weather is thick, or if the tide does not suit for entering the harbour. Allowance must also be made for a strong set to the south-east, which prevails more or less during the south-west monsoon.

Do not bring Manora Point to the southward-of-east, or go under 15 fathoms near Cape Monze.

Masters of ships should endeavour to make the port at daylight, and can with safety approach into 8 fathoms to about 2 miles distance from the light-house, keeping it, in any bearing, from north-east to north, and heave to for a Pilot.

ANCHORAGE IN THE ROADS.

From June to the middle of September, ships should not on any account anchor, but stand off and on, keeping the light-house bearing from north-by-east to north-east, 1 to 2 miles distant, until boarded by a Pilot or directed by signal.

September to end of March.

Anchorage light-house north-by-east to north-north-east, distant 1 mile, 7 fathoms.

April and May.

Light-house north-north-east to north-east, distant half a mile, 8 fathoms.

caries of the 2nd Class who may attain to the 1st Class of their respective grades after completing the prescribed period of 5 years' service in the lower Class, will be required to show that they have not only kept up, but added to, their professional knowledge before they can be permitted to draw the increased pay of a 1st Class Apothecary, or Assistant Apothecary, as the case may be.

2. Under existing rules, Medical Committees are required to assemble on the 15th January and 15th July of each year for the purpose of examining Assistant Apothecaries who may be desirous of qualifying for promotion to the grade of Apothecary; and under the terms of G. G. O. No. 555 of 1874, Committees will likewise assemble on the 1st May and 1st November of each year for the purpose of testing the progress made by Hospital Apprentices. 3. Position, as heretofore, will be dependent on service; pay hereafter on qualifications.

4. The names of successful examinees will be reported, as at present, to Army Head Quarters, and published in General Orders by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, which will be sufficient authority for the admission of the higher rate of pay, provided, of course, that the condition of 5 years' service in the 2nd Class shall have been fulfilled.

5. With the view of ensuring that none but qualified and efficient subordinates are promoted to the grade of Apothecary, Assistant Apothecaries will be required, after serving 5 years in the 1st Class to undergo further examination for the purpose of showing that they have maintained their professional knowledge. If unfavorably reported on, a 1st Class Assistant Apothecary, who may stand first in the list for promotion, will be liable to supersession on the occurrence of vacancies in the next higher grade until he passes a satisfactory examination and is reported fit for advancement.

6. Second Class Apothecaries will come under the operation of the above rules, the object being to prove that they are deserving of the higher pay, as well as the superior position of a 1st Class Apothecary. The names of those who may be reported as qualified will be published in G. G. O. C. C., and the increased rate of pay passed on their completing 5 years' service in the 2nd Class of the Apothecary grade.

7. Proceedings of Examining Committees should be sent direct to the Surgeon General, Indian Medical Service, Calcutta, who will take such action as may be necessary in each case. Results of the examinations to be held under paragraphs 3 and 6 should be prepared in duplicate to admit of one copy being transmitted to Army Head Quarters in view of the publication of the names of successful examinees in General Orders by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

INSANES.

2. The following documents will be forwarded to the medical officer in charge of the asylum: a certificate of the date to which he is paid, a statement of all unadjusted claims, such as clothing or prize-money, and a descriptive roll in duplicate, giving every particular which may affect his claim to pension, wounds received, and the names of his nearest relatives or heirs.

SOLDIERS OF SHORT SERVICE.

3. An insane soldier who may not be entitled from length of service to a pension, will be paid up and struck off his regiment from date of departure, and an allowance of two annas a day for the period occupied on the journey may be drawn in advance and made over to the escort for the patient's subsistence on the road.

4. The paymaster of the military circle within which any such asylum is situated, will pay to the officer in charge of the asylum the expense of the lodging, maintenance, clothing and medicine of a Native soldier so received and detained, until he is discharged from the asylum, or in the case of a man incurably afflicted, for a period of two years only, after which the expense will be treated as an ordinary civil medical charge.

5. In cases where the family of such an insane may require support owing to the allowances of soldiers ceasing on their admission to a lunatic asylum, a special representation may be submitted containing full information for the consideration and orders of the government of the presidency concerned.

6. When a Native soldier is discharged from a lunatic asylum as cured, and is permitted to rejoin his corps as a supernumerary if no vacancy exists, he will be re-enrolled and his pay will re-commence from the date of his rejoining; his previous service up to the date on which he was struck off will also be restored to him.

7. When a Native soldier is discharged from a lunatic asylum as partially cured and pronounced permanently unfit to contribute to his own livelihood, but fit to be entrusted to the care of his friends, he will be transferred to the pension establishment on an allowance of Rs. 3 per mensem from date of discharge from the asylum. The stipend will be payable to his friends or relatives on production of the usual life-certificate.

SOLDIERS ENTITLED TO PENSION.

8. A Native soldier who at the time of his removal to a lunatic asylum may, by length of service, be entitled to the benefit of the invalid pension establishment, will be transferred to that establishment on the pension to which he is entitled, and so much of the pension as will cover the cost of his maintenance at the asylum will be deducted subject to the condition that where there is a family dependent on him, they shall be allowed at least a moiety of it. The pension will be drawn monthly by the officer in charge of the asylum from the paymaster or pension paymaster of the circle in which the asylum is situated.

9. Should a pensioner be discharged and pronounced fit to be entrusted to his friends, he will be entitled, should he not have had a family dependent upon him, to any balance of his pension that may remain after deducting the cost of his maintenance whilst in the asylum.

10. In all cases of recovered men discharged and sent to their homes, the medical officer in charge of the asylum will transmit to the paymaster of the circle in which the man wishes to reside and draw his pension, the duplicate copy of the descriptive roll received from the corps and the discharge certificate, also in the case of pensioners, a last payment certificate, &c.

EMIGRATION.

The 18th May 1875.

—THE following Rules relating to emigration from the Port of British and Foreign Colonies have been made by the Governor in Council under the provisions of Section 56 of the Indian Emigration Act, and are hereby published for general information :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO EMIGRATION FROM THE PORT OF BOMBAY UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF ACT VII OF 1871.

REGISTRATION OF EMIGRANTS AND OF PRELIMINARY ARRANGEMENTS IN PORT.

Under the guidance of the Protector of Emigrants and Registering Magistrates.

Attention of the Protector of Emigrants is directed to those sections of the Act which define the position and duties, the position and duties of others who are engaged under the following rules.

A license granted to a recruiter of emigrants shall have appended thereto a statement setting forth in English and in the Vernacular language of the town, district or districts in which he is licensed to engage labourers the name of the recruiter's father, the age of the recruiter, his caste, colour and height, the particular personal marks that distinguish him, and the name of the village, taluq and district to which his family belongs. The Protector shall affix his signature to this descriptive roll; and no recruiter shall engage or attempt to engage labourers in any town or village without having first exhibited his license with the descriptive roll attached thereto, to the resident Magistrate of that town or village; or if there be more than one such Magistrate, to the Senior Magistrate.

3. Every recruiter shall wear on his left arm the badge prescribed by Section 20 of the Act; and if he is found exercising his calling without his badge so placed and plainly visible, his license shall be withdrawn.

4. Badges to be worn by the recruiters shall be sent to the Protector of Emigrants by the Emigration Agent concerned when the agency is opened, and all badges shall be numbered consecutively.

5. When a license is applied for, it will be issued with a numbered badge, and be itself numbered to correspond.

6. When a license is cancelled, withdrawn or no longer required, the badge shall be returned, with the license, to the Protector, or to the Magistrate of the district if the license was held by a recruiter appointed in the mofussil, and re-issued on the next application.

7. When intending emigrants appear before a Magistrate or the Protector for registration, the Magistrate or Protector shall, in the first instance, examine them with reference to their respective engagements without the recruiter being present at such examination; and in cases where the intending emigrants appear to be young persons unaccompanied by their relations, shall make careful inquiry as to the circumstances under which they have been induced to enter into such engagement. The recruiter shall then be called upon to answer any questions rendered necessary by statements made regarding his conduct by the intending emigrants; and finally the Magistrate or Protector shall effect their registration as provided by Section 27 or 29 of the Act, and by the following rule.

8. The register required to be kept, and the certified copy thereof which is to be given to each registered emigrant under Section 27 or 29 of the Act, shall include a descriptive roll of the emigrant setting forth his caste, colour, height and distinguishing marks.

9. During their journey to the emigration depôt an allowance will be made to emigrants on account of food at the rate of two annas a day for each adult, and half that sum for each child under ten years, including infants. If proceeding by sea, their passage shall be engaged by steamer, or by sailing vessel when the wind is fair, but not otherwise.

10. Besides the usual reports [under Section 8 of the Act] on return emigrants, the treatment they have experienced on boardship and in the colony, the Protector will submit, for the information of Government, the under-noted periodical reports and returns:—

(a) Monthly.—A return showing the number and description of emigrants who have embarked for the colonies during the month immediately preceding that on which the return is due.

(b) Annually.—A report on the emigration of the preceding official year, giving particulars on any points of importance, and embracing detailed information on (a) the number and description of emigrants embarked for and returned from the several colonies, (b) the amount of savings brought back by return emigrants, (c) the detention of coolies in the depôts and their mortality in depôts, (d) the length of the voyages and the mortality during those voyages, and (e) the prevalence of cholera on board of emigrant ships for the period under review.

11. Fees under Section 31 of the Indian Emigration Act must be levied on each emigrant as defined in Section 3 of the Act.

12. In the event of any emigrant who is already registered for one colony desiring to emigrate to another, such emigrant may be re-registered for the colony elected; and the same fee authorised for the first registration must be paid for re-registration by the agent or recruiter of the colony to which the emigrant is going.

13. Where any emigrant deserts at the station of the registering Magistrate, the fee paid in respect of such emigrant shall be refunded by the said Magistrate to the recruiter by whom it was paid on his written application.

14. Where the desertion occurs at any place between the station of the registering Magistrate and the emigration depôt to which the deserting emigrant was bound, or at such depôt, refund shall be made to the Emigration Agent on his written application for and on behalf of the recruiter by the Protector of Emigrants.

15. Where the deserting emigrant may have been registered by the Protector, refund shall be made by the Protector, as aforesaid.

16. In no case shall any refund be made where it shall appear to the Magistrate or Protector (as the case may be) that the desertion of the emigrant is attributable to the misconduct of the recruiter or his servants, or of the Emigration Agent or any person employed by him or under his control.

17. Copies and translations of the Indian Emigration Act, and of the rules framed under its provisions, may be procured at the authorised prices from the Office of the Protector of Emigrants, who will submit annual returns to Government of the number of copies of each which have been disposed of.

Rules for the guidance of the Medical Inspector of Emigrants.

18. The attention of the Medical Inspector is directed to Sections 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 34, 42 and 49 of the Act, and to the following rules.

19. The Medical Inspector shall exercise a careful supervision over the sanitary state of the emigration depôts; and, when necessary, he should suggest to the agent or officer in charge of the depôt any alteration which in a sanitary point of view may seem to him likely to benefit the coolies; and, so far as circumstances render it expedient, he should endeavour to introduce uniformity by assimilating the approved practices and arrangements in the several depôts, each one to the other.

20. He is jointly responsible with the Protector of Emigrants for the eligibility, for emigration purposes, of vessels which take emigrants from this port, and is expected to be present with the Protector of Emigrants at the primary and final surveys of ships chartered for the conveyance of emigrants, of their ventilation, fittings, provisions, medical stores and hospital arrangements. He shall also be present at the embarkation of emigrants, and shall see that everything is done to lessen the likelihood of disease and increase the comfort of the coolies.

21. No emigrant must be permitted to embark who is considered by the Medical Inspector to be physically unfit for the voyage, or who cannot do so without danger to his or her health, or to that of others. It will not be for the Inspector to decide upon the fitness or otherwise of the coolies for labour in the colony to which they are bound: that is a question for the consideration of the agent, who is guided in his selection of fit labourers by the advice of medical officers* who are specially appointed to this duty by the colony to which the emigrants are going.

* (a) The Surgeon of the depôt, and
(b) the Surgeon of the ship in which the coolies are about to be conveyed.

Rules for the guidance of Emigration Agents.

22. Their attention is directed to those sections of the Act that define their duties, and to the following rules.

23. Correspondence with the local Government in connection with colonial emigration shall be conducted through the Protector of Emigrants.

24. Ordinarily the Agent will be guided by the Medical Inspector of Emigrants and the Surgeon of the depôt in all sanitary measures adopted in depôts, but the following points should always be kept in view, viz.:—

(a).—Cleanliness and ventilation, as affecting the persons of the coolies, their clothing, sleeping sheds, hospitals, depôt, compound and privies.

(b).—The purity of the drinking water-supply [which must be distinct from that used for washing and bathing] and the efficiency of the means for preserving its purity.

(c).—Food: That it is of good quality, sufficient in quantity, and well cooked. When rations are issued in lieu of diet-money or batta, the Government dietary scale (table A) shall be used as a guide.

(d).—Clothing: A sufficient supply at all seasons, and of blankets during the cold months especially. Clothing which coolies bring into the depôt with them may be retained by them, provided that the articles are in good condition, are not suspected of infection [in which case they must be burnt], and are properly washed, especially on admission and previous to embarkation.

- (e).—The immediate isolation of all cases of communicable disease (e.g., cholera, small-pox) and the prompt and careful disposal of all excreta, particularly in cholera cases, the destruction by fire of all infected or suspected clothing or other articles, the vaccination of all emigrants admitted into depôt previous to embarkation, and the free use of disinfectants in sleeping sheds, hospitals and privies.
- (f).—Employment and recreation should be encouraged. Coolies should be engaged, as far as possible, in maintaining the good order and cleanliness of the depôt compound, garden, &c., for which service they ought to be fairly remunerated, and games or other amusements should be encouraged.
- (g).—The emigration depôt shall be enclosed by a hedge in preference to a wall; but if the latter be considered necessary, it shall not be higher than five feet.
25. Whenever cholera makes its appearance, the matter should be immediately reported to the Protector of Emigrants, who will in severe outbreaks report for the information of Government.
26. There should always be two hospitals in every depôt—one for ordinary cases, and the other for communicable disease (e. g., cholera, &c.); and a resident native or other doctor, subject to the approval of the Medical Inspector, shall be appointed to have charge of and to live near the hospital and within the depôt compound.
27. The weekly hospital report, in such form as may be desired by the Medical Inspector, shall be furnished regularly.
28. Coolies should not be detained too long in depôt. Every effort should be made to despatch the coolies, if possible, within a month from the date of their arrival in depot, so that the average detention in depôt may not, as a general rule, exceed one month. A return in Form No. 2 should be submitted for the information of Government at the close of each official year, with an explanation if the detention in depôt has been unusually long.
29. A qualified European, East Indian or Native Medical Officer (who has a fair knowledge of English) shall, subject to the approval of the Medical Inspector and the Protector of Emigrants, be appointed by the Emigration Agent to every ship engaged. Should the Medical Officer be unable to converse with the emigrants in their vernacular language, one interpreter must be engaged for ships proceeding to colonies east of the Cape; and in all cases three must be employed in those proceeding west of the Cape.
30. In cases in which the Medical Officer selected by the Agent has no diploma, he should not be employed without the approval of the Surgeon-General of the Medical Department.
- A compounder or a qualified native doctor shall also be appointed to attend on the emigrants during the voyage.
31. The Medical Officer selected must be directed to the Protector's Office for the purpose of having his testimonials examined and registered, and the Protector may, if he see reason for so doing, take the opinion of the Surgeon-General of the Medical Department as to the efficiency of such Medical Officer.
32. The Emigration Agent will be informed by the Master of the vessel chartered by him of the dates fixed for the official surveys, in order that the Agent may have an opportunity of being present. Any opinions or suggestions which the Agent may wish to express respecting the vessel, her stores, fittings, &c., on those occasions should be communicated there and then to the Protector and Medical Inspector of Emigrants. Unless of a trivial nature and disposed of at the time, the Agent should convey his views also in writing officially to the Protector and without delay before the vessel is passed as fit for the conveyance or reception of emigrants.
33. When epidemic disease is prevalent in Bombay, the Emigration Agent will be required to obtain from the Surgeon of the depôt on the day of the embarkation of the emigrants a certificate to the effect that they have been generally healthy in depôt, and that no epidemic is prevalent among the coolies there. A copy of this certificate must be forwarded to the Protector's Office.
34. Of the total number to be embarked, the proportion of adult females shall be not less than 40 to every 100 adult males.
35. The Emigration Agent concerned should furnish the Master of the vessel chartered by him, when applying for a license, with a certified memorandum of the number and description of the emigrants likely to be embarked.
36. In a case of emergency, when the proportion of females cannot be completed, an application should accompany the memorandum reporting the deficiency for the information of Government, and submitting for approval the manner in which it is intended to be made good in subsequent shipments.

37. As a general rule, females in an advanced state of pregnancy and infants who are too young to take ordinary food, and whose mothers cannot supply nourishment for them, should not be embarked. Other children, however, may be taken if accompanying their parents or relatives and approved by the Medical Inspector.

38. It shall be the duty of Emigration Agents to deliver to the Protector of Emigrants all property, wills or other documents which may come into their possession belonging to coolies who have died in depôt, on ship-board or in the colonies, together with such descriptive particulars of the deceased and their heirs as they may be in a position to furnish, in order that their relatives may be traced or identified and the property correctly disposed of.

39. The Emigration Agent shall, with as little delay as possible, inform the Protector of Emigrants, in writing, of any changes he may be authorised to make in the terms offered to intending emigrants, in order that the alteration may be communicated to Government as soon as possible.

40. Copies of all agreements entered into with medical subordinates, interpreters and others, being natives of India, engaged to proceed with coolies to the West Indies or other colonies, should be forwarded to the Protector of Emigrants for submission to Government; and before the departure of each ship a memorandum showing all natives of India (other than emigrants and crew) who may be engaged by the Emigration Agents for service on board of emigrant ships should be furnished to the Protector of Emigrants. It will be the duty of the Protector to satisfy himself that advances of wages endorsed on such agreements have been actually paid to, and received by, the persons named in such agreements.

41. Clothing and utensils shall be supplied to each emigrant according to the scales laid down in tables C and F hereunto annexed, and shall be shipped immediately after the emigrants have embarked.

42. Between the 1st day of March and the 15th day of September, every emigrant proceeding to the west of the Cape shall be provided with an extra double blanket for use outside the tropics, in addition to the usual supply of clothing and blankets prescribed in table F for the rest of the season.

43. In sufficient time previous to the day fixed for embarkation, the coolies should be arranged (relatives being kept together) in the numerical order in which their names will occur in the passes and the general register compiled from the passes, both of which must therefore correspond and be numbered accordingly.

44. Each emigrant must be provided with his pass, and may also be supplied with a tin ticket (to hang conveniently from the neck or arm where it may be easily seen), bearing the number, stamped in raised figures, corresponding with that affixed to his or her name in the pass and general register of emigrants about to be embarked.

45. When mustering the coolies on any occasion, and especially for inspection prior to embarkation, they should be arranged and maintained in the order of their numbers, to avoid confusion and ensure a correct muster.

46. Emigration Agents should furnish the documents noted below, viz. :—

To Masters.

- (a).—A certified memorandum of the number and description of emigrants likely to be embarked, the proportion of adult females, and any explanation that the circumstances of the case may require.
- (b).—Certificate under Section 44 of the Act—(See Form No. 19).
- (c).—Two copies of the Indian Emigration Act and of all rules under Section 56, and two copies of a translation of the Act and of such rules in such languages as the local Government may direct.
- (d).—Passes or certificates to the emigrants under Section 38 of the Act.
- (e).—Four copies of the general register of emigrants compiled from their passes (Form No. 21). All four shall be signed by the Master: the Master shall then deliver two copies to the Emigration Agent, who, after signing them, shall retain one and return the other to the Master for the use of the Emigration authorities at the port of debarkation. The Master shall also deliver two other copies to the Protector, who, after signing them, will retain one and return the other, in order that it may be duly filled up (as required by Rule 107) and forwarded to the Government Officer at the port of debarkation, who will ultimately return it with the Surgeon's medical records to the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay.

(f).—A copy of instructions for guidance in the care and management of emigrants.

To Surgeons.

(g).—A blank form for recording daily issue of stores for emigrants—(Form No. 22 or 23).

(h).—Admission and discharge book (blank)—(Form No. 24).

(i).—Medical case-book (blank)—(Form No. 25).

(j).—Register of births and deaths (blank)—(Form No. 26).

(k).—Medical history of the voyage (blank)—(Form No. 27).

(l).—Instructions to Surgeons for guidance in the care and management of emigrants, and a copy of the rules under the Indian Emigration Act.

(m).—A copy of the charter party.

Rules for the guidance of Masters of Emigrant Ships.

47. In addition to the following rules, their attention is directed to Sections 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 46, 49, 50, 51, 54 and 55 of the Indian Emigration Act.

48. Every vessel for which a license is required shall be surveyed under instructions from the Protector of Emigrants, through whom written application for the license must be made by the Master in Form No. 3.

49. On receipt of the application for license, the Protector shall, in communication with the Master Attendant, cause the vessel to be surveyed by an officer of the Master Attendant's Department with a view to ascertain her seaworthiness, the extent and nature of her accommodation,* &c. (under the terms of Section 41 of the Act), the state of her tackle, boats, &c., as prescribed in Schedule A, together with such other additional requisites as may be considered necessary by the Marine Surveyor to render the vessel in every respect seaworthy and fit for the conveyance of emigrants.

50. The Marine Surveyor shall report the results of his survey and measurements to the Protector of Emigrants, first in Form No. 4, and subsequently, when everything is provided to his satisfaction, in Form No. 16.

51. After the Marine Surveyor's report in Form No. 4 has been forwarded to the Protector's Office, the Master should arrange with the Protector of Emigrants for an inspection of the vessel in order to decide on her eligibility in other respects, her ventilation and fittings, as specified in Schedule B. The Master must at once inform the Emigration Agent of the day and hour fixed for this survey.

52. The Protector, if satisfied in all respects, will then grant a certificate (Form No. 6) to the Master, and will require the Master to execute, in duplicate, the bond (Schedule D) in consideration of his receiving a license.

53. Prior to taking in the stores enumerated in the list of provisions and miscellaneous articles (Form No. 8 or 9), the Master shall send, for the examination of the Protector, samples of each article enumerated in the dietary scales. If they are approved, the instructions in Form No. 7 will be forwarded for the guidance of the Commander, who must carefully attend to them, and see that the officer in charge of the stores, &c., abides by them also.

54. The prescribed quantity of water for the emigrants must be stored in clean iron tanks. In ships carrying an approved distilling apparatus, a reduction of one-third the prescribed quantity of water is allowed, and Masters should lose no time in getting the machine examined by a competent Surveyor, subject to the approval of the Protector of Emigrants.

55. The provisions, miscellaneous articles, medicines, instruments, disinfectants, &c. (Form No. 8 or 9 and Table B or E), and the extra clothing blankets, &c., must be on board at least one day before that fixed for the final survey, in order that the Surgeon of the ship (with whom the Master must communicate) may have an opportunity of examining those stores properly on board the ship prior to the final survey, which will be held after the Surgeon is satisfied and certifies to their correctness under Table B or E and in Form No. 13.

The medical stores and extra clothing, &c., should then be locked up safely, pending their inspection by the Medical Inspector and Protector of Emigrants at the final survey.

56. It is the duty of the Master to ascertain that all the fittings, stores, and water are of the best quality and amply provided according to scale. If he is unable to attend to this duty himself, he must on his own responsibility depute an officer especially to this work. The examinations of the Protector and Medical Inspector do not in any degree lessen the responsibility of the Master, who, when everything is ready for final survey, should forward the certificate and application for final survey (Form No. 14) to the Protector's Office. When the time for the final survey has been fixed by the Protector, the Master must at once inform the Emigration Agent of it, in order that he may be afforded an opportunity of being present also.

57. Emigrants will not be allowed to embark on any vessel on board of which there is not a 3rd officer, whose duty it shall be to have charge of the emigrant stores, to issue the rations, water, &c., for the emigrants, and to assist the Surgeon generally in the care and management of the emigrants on board.

58. No gunpowder, inflammable oils, spirits, jute, hides, nor any commodity likely by reason of its quantity or quality to be detrimental to the safety or health of the emigrants, shall be taken as cargo or part of the cargo; nor shall any vicious dogs or wild animals be allowed on board of an emigrant ship.

59. Responsible officers must be appointed to have charge of the fire-engine, where one is on board, and other precautionary measures taken against the risk of fire.

60. Besides the bond (under Section 40 of the Act, Schedule D, Appendix, required from the Master, and which, duly stamped, must be executed in duplicate at the Office of the Protector of Emigrants), the Master shall forward to the Protector's office, at least one clear day before the day appointed for the final survey, the under-noted certificates duly filled up, dated and signed according to the forms prescribed in the Appendix, viz. :—

(a).—A certificate to the effect that the conditions of Rules 57 and 58 have been complied with (Form No. 12).

(b).—Two copies of the provision list duly filled up and signed (Form No. 8 or 9); the Surgeon's certificates to Table B or E, and Form No. 13.

(c).—A certificate of the total quantity of water, its source, &c. (Form No. 10).

(d).—A certificate from the Master stating that an officer has been appointed to the special charge of the emigrants' stores, &c., and that the fittings and stores are ready for survey (Form No. 14).

N. B.—The following certificates should be forwarded to the Protector's Office at least one day prior to that of embarkation :—

(e).—A certificate from the Surveyor of distilling machines to the effect that the requirements of Schedule C are fully complied with (Form No. 11).

(f).—A certificate from the Master Attendant's Office to the effect that the requirements of Schedule A and of the Marine Surveyor have been fully complied with (Form No. 16).

(g).—A certificate from the Shipping Master's Office to the effect that the proper number and description of crew have been duly shipped (Form No. 17).

(h).—Commanders are also required to furnish crew and passenger lists in Form No. 18; and, excepting emigrants and European or Native cabin passengers and their servants, who must be duly entered in the form above referred to, no other Native passengers shall be received on board an emigrant ship.

61. The date of embarkation may be decided on after, but not before, the ship has passed her final survey of fittings and stores.

62. In appointing the time of embarkation, a sufficient interval must be ensured for the emigrants' stores to be properly stowed away, and for the vessel to be in every respect clean, in good order, and thoroughly prepared for the reception of her emigrants.

63. When everything is completed to the satisfaction of the Protector and Medical Inspector of Emigrants, and the ship is ready for sea, the clearance certificate in Form No. 19, under Section 44 of the Act, will be granted by the Protector of Emigrants to the Master, who will also obtain from the Emigration Agent a similar certificate. The Protector shall have the power to delay the embarkation if, in his opinion, the weather is likely to be boisterous.

Rules for the guidance of Surgeons of Emigrant Ships.

64. The Surgeon shall call at the office of the Protector of Emigrants as soon as possible after his nomination, in order that his qualifications, &c., may be registered. He will leave his address at the office, and should intimate any change of residence as soon as it is conveniently possible, in order that communications from the office may be correctly addressed to him.

65. When the Medical Officer has no diploma, he shall not be employed without the approval of the Surgeon-General of the Medical Department, and Native Medical Officers must have a fair knowledge of English.

66. The Surgeon is required to attend frequently at the depôt before embarkation, in order that he may become thoroughly acquainted with the health and physical condition of the coolies of whom he is about to receive charge, and he should see that they are all properly vaccinated.

67. He must take an early opportunity before embarkation of comparing the coolies in depôt with their passes (under Section 38 of the Act), and when satisfied of their correctness, he will countersign them.

68. The Surgeon, if in Bombay at the time, shall be present with the Protector and Medical Inspector of Emigrants at the first official inspection for deciding on the eligibility, fittings, ventilation, &c., of the ship tendered for the conveyance of the emigrants of whom he is going in medical charge. He should visit the ship occasionally in the interval between the first and final survey, to satisfy himself in good time that there is nothing to which he would object, and should arrange with the Protector to see the samples of stores intended for the coolies before the samples are approved of. He must be present with the Protector and Medical Inspector at the final survey of ship's fittings and stores. Any suggestions or objections he may desire to make at either or both of the surveys should be stated there and then to the Protector and Medical Inspector, who, if the representation is of a trivial character, may deal with it at once; but, if it is of a more serious or difficult nature, the Surgeon must without delay forward a written statement of his views officially to the Protector of Emigrants, who will give it careful attention. Should the Surgeon have no objections to urge on either of those occasions, he shall furnish the Protector of Emigrants with a certificate in Form No. 5 after the first inspection, and with a certificate in Form No. 15 after the final survey.

69. Prior to the time fixed for the final survey of stores, &c., the Surgeon, in communication with the Master, must appoint a convenient time for the careful examination, on board the ship, of the provisions, miscellaneous articles, medicines, instruments, disinfectants, extra clothing and blankets supplied for the emigrants. If satisfied of their good quality and correctness according to scale, the Surgeon shall receive charge of the medical stores and have them put into a safe place, pending their examination at the final official survey. When satisfied, he shall sign duplicate copies of the certified table B or E (at foot of scale of medicines) and certificate Form No. 13. A copy of each must be furnished by him to the Protector of Emigrants, and a duplicate copy of each to the Emigration Agent.

70. Before the time of embarkation the Surgeon should also satisfy himself that the ordinary clothing and blankets supplied at the depôt to the coolies for their use on the voyage are of good quality, clean and sufficient according to scale, and that the compounder, maistries, cooks, topases, &c., have been duly appointed.

71. The Surgeon must obtain the following documents from the Office of the Protector of Emigrants:—

(a).—Blank forms of scale Table B or E, and also certificate Forms Nos. 5, 13 and 15.

(b).—Instructions to Surgeons regarding contagious fever on board of emigrant ships.

(c).—A copy, duly signed by the Master, of the scale and list of provisions, &c. (Form No. 8 or 9), taken on board at Bombay.

(d).—A memorandum of the quantity and description of fresh provisions and water to be taken in by the Master either at the Cape or at St. Helena.

N. B.—For a list of documents to be obtained from the Emigration Agents, see Rule 46.

II.—THE EMBARKATION.

Rules for the guidance of Emigration Agents.

72. The emigrants should be at the place of embarkation in sufficient time to be correctly arranged for medical inspection and muster according to their numerical order in the general register, No. 1 being placed nearest the embarkation point.

73. When once numerically arranged for inspection and embarkation, they should not be permitted to leave their places: it should be impressed on the maistries to attend to this, and the writers or other servants present should also see that no confusion results.

74. The compounder and establishment of cooks, topases, &c., must be present punctually to help the coolies and to assist the Surgeon in berthing the coolies when on board.

Rules for the guidance of Masters.

75. Before the time fixed for embarkation the 'tween decks should be thoroughly cleaned and cleared for the reception of the emigrants. The lanterns, trimmed all ready for lighting, should be hung in their places, and, unless wet weather prevents it, all the ventilation of the 'tween decks must be opened up.
76. When the weather is wet, or rain is expected, the tarpaulins for spreading, tent-fashion, over the hatches must be put up, and awnings must be spread so as to shelter the coolies as they embark and keep the 'tween decks as dry as possible.
77. The scuttle butts should be filled with drinking water, and the wash deck-tubs, filled with water, placed near the water-closets for the convenience of the coolies.
78. A convenient accommodation side ladder must be provided, also chair and tackling for hoisting up women and children.
79. All the crew must be on board previous to the embarkation of the coolies.
80. The Master must be present at the embarkation to satisfy himself, by comparing the passes with the names of the emigrants, as they are called one by one in their numerical order in the general register, that all is correct; and two of the ship's crew—one to count, and the other to note—shall keep a careful tally of the total number of souls received on board.
81. After embarkation it is often necessary to issue a supply of choora or-avil and sugar to the coolies and milk for the children, if the Surgeon orders it. These articles should therefore be kept ready at hand.
82. Immediately after embarkation coolies are very apt to carry fire for smoking into the 'tween decks if they can procure it: this should be guarded against.
83. After embarkation the Master and Surgeon will receive charge of the documents relating to the coolies, which will be furnished to them by the Emigration Agent.
84. In addition to the copies of the Act and rules, and the emigrants' certificates or passes, the Emigration Agent will supply the Master of every vessel with four copies of the general register of emigrants (Form No. 21), all of which the Master is required to sign. He shall then deliver two of them to the Agent, who after signing them will return one to the Master for the use of the Emigration authorities at the port of debarkation. The Master will also deliver two other copies of the register to the Protector of Emigrants, who, after signing them, will return one copy to the Master, in order that it may be duly filled up (as required by Rule 107) and forwarded to the Protector of Emigrants at the port of debarkation, for ultimate transmission (with the medical records) to the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay.
85. The heavy baggage (if any) of the coolies should be put down the hold.
86. The vessel must proceed to sea within 48 hours after the embarkation of the coolies is completed.

Rules for the guidance of the Ship's Surgeon.

87. He should be at the place of embarkation at least half-an-hour before the time appointed for the embarkation.
88. He shall, in conjunction with the Medical Inspector of Emigrants, examine the emigrants for the last time previous to their going on board, and reject any one considered unfit to go.
89. In berthing the coolies, the unmarried women should be placed furthest aft, the married couples next, and the single men forward.
90. The Surgeon should see that the compounder, maistries, cooks and topases are on board.
91. For every 100 adults 4 maistries are appointed to act as headmen. The coolies must be divided into lots, and each maistry should take charge of a company and also of a division of the lower deck, for the good order and cleanliness of which he is to be held responsible.
92. The Surgeon should instruct the maistries and topases to see that no smoking or fire is allowed in the 'tween decks, and that the coolies do not drink any water but that which is supplied for them in the scuttle butts on deck. These points will require the Surgeon's personal attention.

III.—THE VOYAGE.

Rules for the guidance of the Commander.

93. As the Surgeon will have the principal charge of the emigrants, every requisition made by him to the Commander, consistent with good order and discipline (without interfering with the routine duties of the ship, for which the Commander himself is always the responsible person) must be promptly complied with, and the officers and crew are bound to render any reasonable assistance in their power when it is necessary for them to do so.

94. During the voyage Commanders should see that the 'tween decks are cleared three times every day, disinfected and dry holystoned daily by the coolies, and that, weather permitting, they are whitewashed throughout every alternate Saturday. No naked lights, loose hay or straw shall be allowed between decks or in the hold at any time, nor on any account. At least six safety lanterns shall burn from dusk to daylight throughout the voyage for the use of the emigrants.

95. Wooden ships that do not make so much water as to require pumping out once a week, must twice a week have a sufficient quantity of water poured into their hold and pumped out again for the purpose of keeping the bilges sweet.

96. The officers and crew of the ship must not be permitted to have any intercourse or to interfere with the emigrants; and no female emigrant is to be a servant to the Captain, Surgeon, cabin passengers or officers of the ship.

97. The daily issue by the officer in charge of the rations and water for the coolies is to be carried out under instructions from the Surgeon before 6 A. M. every day, so that the first meal may be properly cooked and served out by 9 A. M., and the second by 3 P. M.: the issuing officer in charge of the stores must keep a correct account of the expenditure in Form No. 24 or 25, and have it initialled daily as indicated therein. Medical stores and comforts shall be issued on the requisition of the Surgeon.

98. It must be clearly understood that the dietary scale is merely intended as a guide and not a hard-and-fast rule. The provisions supplied according to that scale may be issued in such variety as to quantities and proportions as the Surgeon may consider necessary for the benefit of the coolies.

99. Meals must be taken on deck when practicable.

100. The wash deck-tubs should be filled regularly, and for the last time at 8 P. M., for the use of the coolies during the night. The tubs should be securely lashed near each block of water closets.

101. Constant attention should be paid to the windsails and other sources of fresh air for the 'tween decks, but those which it would be dangerous to leave open must be closed in bad weather—side scuttles, for example.

102. Awnings must be spread over the quarter and main decks when the weather permits, and coolies should be encouraged to keep as much in the open air as possible.

103. Tarpaulins for spreading, tent-fashion, over the hatchways when necessary to be kept at hand.

104. The 'tween decks must be kept perfectly free, clean, and as dry as possible, by means of hot sand and stoves if necessary; and the upper deck is also to be kept clear of all unnecessary lumber.

105. The accommodation or space of the coolies must on no account be encroached upon; the main quarter and poop decks must be given up to the coolies, at least to such extent as shall not interfere with the working of the ship.

106. The fire-buckets and life-buoys must be kept at all times in readiness; the regulations of the Board of Trade respecting lights and fog-signals shall be strictly observed throughout the voyage, and the times of hoisting and hauling down the lights shall be noted daily in the ship's log.

107. The Commander should retain in his possession the certificates and effects of those emigrants who die during the voyage, and should deliver them, with an inventory of the articles, to the Protector of Emigrants, or other proper authority at the port of debarkation, together with the counterpart list and general register given to him by the Emigration Agent. Great care must be taken not to deface the lists or certificates.—(See Rules 130 and 131.)

108. On arrival at the port of debarkation the state in which each emigrant is landed and the deaths should be entered in the column of "Remarks" of the general register (signed by the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay), which should be countersigned by the Master and Surgeon, and then forwarded to the proper Government authority at the port of debarkation for transmission to the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay.

Rules for the guidance of the Surgeon.

109. As the health of those on board depend so materially on strictly careful attention to all sanitary precautions and the early detection of disease, the Surgeon is specially charged with the duty of maintaining throughout the voyage a constant watchfulness over everything that may influence the health of those in his charge.

110. The Surgeon should, as far as possible, guard the coolies from harsh treatment; he should see that the space allotted to them on the upper and lower decks is not encroached upon; that there is no improper intercourse or interference on the part of the officers and crew with the emigrants; and, if necessary, he should report any infringements of this rule to the Master, who is bound to inquire into the matter and to adopt such measures as the case may require. No punishment shall be inflicted on any emigrant except with the consent of the Surgeon and Master of the ship, and the particulars of such cases must be duly entered in the ship's log.

111. It is the duty of the 3rd Officer (appointed for the purpose), and also of the maistries, to assist the Surgeon in maintaining discipline, to see that his orders and daily instructions are carried out, to report any irregularities or cases of sudden sickness, to assist in distributing the rations, &c., and to superintend the cleanliness of the coolies, their accommodation, food and water.

112. The topases must keep every part of the deck and hospital occupied by coolies constantly swept and clean, and must attend regularly to the thorough cleanliness of the water-closets by means of constant washing and the use of disinfectants.

113. They must also see that the tubs near the privies are securely fastened and kept regularly filled with water for the use of the coolies.

114. The cooks, assisted by the maistries, will receive and cook the daily rations under the instructions of the Surgeon, and they must also take care of the galley fires and see that they are extinguished at 7 P.M., unless otherwise directed.

115. The coolies must be kept as much as possible in the open air; they should take their meals on deck whenever this is practicable, and at least one-half of their number should always be on deck during the day-time when the weather permits it.

116. Ventilation and the means for promoting or modifying it should be constantly attended to, and those openings which it would be dangerous to keep open promptly closed on the approach of bad weather.

117. When possible, the coolies should bathe daily, a sail-screen being put up for the women; and they should wash their clothes at least twice a week. The decks should be dry holystoned by the male emigrants daily when practicable, and disinfecting powder must be freely used where the decks have been soiled in any way.

118. The water-closets must be constantly inspected throughout the voyage.

119. The coolies' clothing and blankets should be aired thoroughly at least thrice a week. In damp weather the hanging stoves and hot sand may be cautiously used with advantage to hasten the drying of any parts of the deck, &c., that have been accidentally wetted.

120. At the outset of the voyage the Surgeon should take an account of and hold in reserve all the warm clothing in the possession of the emigrants, in order that they may be preserved and used as soon as a change of temperature renders it necessary. Each emigrant should be made responsible for the care of his or her own suit. There should be a general muster of all clothing and blankets once a week.

121. The provisions issued daily must be divided into two portions, so that they may be cooked for two meals: the first at 9 A.M., and the other at 3 P.M. The issues shall be recorded daily by the officer in charge and attested by the initials of the Surgeon and officer.—(See Form No. 22 or 23.)

122. It must be distinctly understood that the diet scale is merely intended as a fair guide, ensuring for the voyage a sufficient supply of provisions in those proportions which a consideration of their nutritive values renders necessary. The elements of a nutritious dietary are placed at the Surgeon's disposal, and it is intentionally left to his discretion to use and combine them to the best advantage for the emigrant's benefit under the varying circumstances of a long voyage. All waste and excess must be strictly avoided.

123. When cooking is prevented by bad weather, the dry provisions should be issued in lieu of cooked food.

124. Meals when ready must be reported to the Surgeon, who will see that the food is well cooked and fairly served out. The decks must be swept after each meal, and dry holystoned or scraped after breakfast; the spaces under the platforms should be specially looked after, and all dirt thrown overboard.

125. Cooking utensils must be kept clean and inspected daily, and the boiling of rice or other articles in brackish water must be prohibited.

126. Coolies must not be allowed to retain or secrete in their clothes, &c., any food which they were unable to finish: the eating of stale food must be prevented. No smoking shall be allowed between decks.

127. Food for the sick, their medicines, &c., should be methodically arranged, so that they shall receive the prescribed quantities regularly every four hours, or at such other intervals as the Surgeon may decide on. The night-nursing and feeding of the sick should be most particularly provided for. It is between midnight and morning that the want of sufficient support is so severely felt, and is so likely to be neglected by a careless assistant.

128. Coolies must be encouraged to amuse themselves by harmless diversions, and should be allowed to play on their drums, &c., till eight bells.

129. It is the duty of the Surgeon to recommend to the Master such arrangements or expedients as may appear to the Surgeon likely to promote the health and comfort of the emigrants. It is the Surgeon's duty to keep a watchful eye over the health of the coolies: he should muster and inspect them twice daily, and by being constantly among them he should be always in a position to detect the earliest symptoms of disease, such as scurvy, &c. Communicable diseases (small-pox, cholera, &c.) must be isolated at once; the place vacated must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and any suspected or infected articles should be completely destroyed or thrown over board.

130. In case of an epidemic, the nearest port must be made for and the emigrants disembarked. Unless the cause of death be a contagious or infectious disease, the corpse of no emigrant shall be thrown into the sea until six hours after death; but when a quicker burial is necessary under any circumstances, it may be allowed after the death has been ascertained and certified to in the ship's log by the Medical Officer, Commander and Chief Officer.

131. Both the Surgeon and the Master must send from the first port touched at to the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay report of all unusual occurrences affecting the health or welfare of the emigrants on board. The Surgeon and Master are mutually responsible for the care of the emigrants, and all the rules for the voyage (conveniently separated for the guidance of each) must be followed by both—each co-operating with the other for the good and safety of the emigrants entrusted to their care.

132. The Surgeon should make over the property of those emigrants who die on board, with a list of their effects, to the Master of the ship, who shall give him a receipt for them.

133. The Surgeon is required to keep the following records during the voyage, viz. :—

(a).—A record of the patients admitted and discharged, in Form No. 24.

(b).—A medical case-book, in which every case must be entered and not only those considered important, in Form No. 25.

(c).—A medical history of the voyage, in Form No. 27.

(d).—A register of births and deaths, in Form No. 26.

134. The abovenamed records, carefully kept and duly signed by the Surgeon, must be given in by him to the proper Government authority at the port of debarkation for transmission to the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay; and to ensure correctness and regularity in these returns, no payment of any description is to be made to the Surgeon until the general and mortality registers have been examined and their correctness certified to by the Health Officer and Protector of Emigrants, or other proper Government authority at the port of debarkation.

OF RETURNED EMIGRANTS.

135. Early notice of the arrival of any ship with return emigrants should be sent to the Protector of Emigrants, in order that the vessel and her emigrants may be inspected by him, to whom a nominal roll of the emigrants, and any other documents or necessary information relating to them, together with the wills and property of emigrants who have died on board, should be made over as soon as it is conveniently possible.

136. Return emigrants, immediately on their landing, shall be properly lodged and provided for by the Agent of the colony whence the coolies have returned, and they should not be detained in Bombay longer than is necessary to arrange everything for their return. The sick should be sent to hospital at once, and all who are paupers returned to their homes at the expense of the colony. In all cases care must be taken that those who are blind, lame or otherwise helpless are sufficiently provided with such additional assistance for the journey home as their condition or circumstances may render necessary.

137. Return emigrants should be cautioned against carrying loose cash on their persons, and assisted, if they desire it, to obtain money-orders on the local treasuries of the districts to which they are going.

138. Emigrants should be landed only during daylight, and not after dark.

139. In the event of a ship from any British or Foreign colony to which emigration is lawful arriving at Bombay, or in the event of a ship from any French colony to which emigration is lawful arriving at any French port adjoining the Bombay Presidency, with return emigrants belonging to any part of British India not comprised in the Bombay Presidency, the Protector of Emigrants in the case of emigrants landing at Bombay, or the British Consular Agent in the case of emigrants arriving at any French port from a French colony, shall cause the emigrants to be brought before him directly they are landed, and question them as to their treatment on board, their savings, &c., in the same manner as is usually done in the case of return emigrants belonging to the Bombay Presidency.

140. The Protector of Emigrants, in the case of emigrants landed at Bombay, shall then forward the emigrants to the Emigration Agent for the colony from which they have returned, to be kept by him in the dépôt under his charge, board and lodging gratis, until the occurrence of the earliest suitable opportunity for their despatch to the presidency or province to which they belong.

141. The Emigration Agent for such colony shall then forward the emigrants to such presidency or province, as the case may be, paying their passage and making provision for their food, &c., under the supervision of the Protector of Emigrants, in the same manner as is done in the case of emigrants shipped to such colony.

142. In every case of returned emigrants arriving at any of the French ports as aforesaid from a French colony, a report is to be sent by the British Consular Agent to the Protector of Emigrants at Bombay stating what steps have been taken for despatching them to the presidency or province to which they belong.

SCHEDULE (B).

Specification of ventilation and fittings to be provided for ships chartered to convey emigrants from Bombay.

1. Ventilation of the between-decks:—Besides hatches (and if any stern ports of side scuttles the latter to be glazed, well fitted, about 14 feet apart, and as close to the upper deck as possible), there must be air shafts and cowlheaded funnels or tubes, with such other additional means for affording light and ventilation to the space intended for the accommodation of the emigrants as the Protector and Medical Inspector of Emigrants may consider necessary.

2. All cowlheaded funnels must be well made of stout sheet iron (1-12th of an inch thick), each tube averaging at least a foot in diameter with well-expanded moveable and revolving cowls. The upper lip of the cowl must be sufficiently well projected to keep out rain. The cowls must be thoroughly secure in their hold on the funnels to which they belong: and the funnels or tubes, properly flanged at the deck end, must be well fitted and very securely bolted to the deck.

3. Every cowlheaded deck opening shall be provided with a suitable plug for use in bad weather.

4. The air-shafts and combings round the deck openings must be strongly put together, properly caulked, and of such form and size as may be decided on by the Protector and Medical Inspector of Emigrants. They must be well sheltered above against wind and wet weather, with properly constructed lids, covered with tarred canvas, glazed, if necessary, and white-washed inside.

5. The lower apertures of all cowlheaded tubes or air-shafts opening into the between-decks may be fitted, under instructions from the Protector, with means for fastening horizontal screens a few inches from the mouth of each aperture so as to diffuse the down draft of cold air.

6. One windsail for every hatchway, and two extra, for air-shafts.

7. Ventilation of the hold.—Except in vessels fitted with ventilating masts, in which case a proportionate reduction may be allowed, there should be five steam pipes solidly and strongly put together of stout metal or wood and air-tight, each at least 9 inches in diameter, fitted with cowlheads, and leading from the hold to the open air on the upper deck. They should be conveniently placed and so arranged as to carry off the steam from the cargo quite clear of the 'tween-decks, the air of which must be kept as pure and free from sources of contamination as possible. This rule shall not be deemed compulsory in cases where no cargo is carried.

8. Prior to taking in cargo or stores the ship's limbers and bilges, if foul, should be thoroughly cleaned, and the latter purified, if necessary, by the free use of some disinfectant, such as carbolic acid, &c.

9. All air-holes in the between-decks must be securely stopped.

10. If necessary, bright sheet tin reflectors, 2 to 4 feet square, may be fitted conveniently and at such an angle as to reflect light from above into the 'tween-decks below. It is sufficient to arrange them at the vessel's stem or stern when they are unusually dark.

11. All exposed or dangerous places where children or others are likely to injure themselves should be properly protected or closed.
